"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth . . . where thieves break through and steal."—Mat. vi., 19.

This injunction was given nearly nineteen hundred years ago, and if those when then heard and believed were living at the present time, they would doubtless have modified their ideas about the safety of earthly treasures, for they would have known that any thief would have a parrot and monkey time breaking through to steal anything out of the Safety Deposit Vault of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Ltd. Moreover, this vault is fire-proof and absolutely private. A box can be rented in it for a trifle.

ing my court; then the balance of the attorneys would always unite on asking for a continuance on the ground that it is, as they themselves put it, unfair to their absent brethren to have the case heard ex parte.

It has always been a rule of my court and of which I have always apprised counsel beforehand, that when ever I opened court that that constituted "a hearing" and that the same would be taxed as costs; such a rule I do not consider unreasonable in view of the complainant consent of the very attorneys who were asking for further postponements of hearings.

On two occasions I had to come all the way from Molokai in order to fulfill my part of the agreement in this case, to wit, to be present in my court on the days set for the hearing; on one of these occasions the report came that one of the attorneys in the case had gone to the mainland, hence another postponement; at another time some other lawyer in the case had gone to Kona to attend court there. Why was I not informed of all these contemplated absences? The answer must be that they were quite willing to have my court tax as costs the compensation for those disallowed hearings.

Invariably the rule has been, prompted more by counsel themselves than by my court, to postpone hearings until some day when there was a reasonable assurance of all the interested parties and their attorneys being present.

In view of the fact that I am not a salaried officer but paid only by the number of hearings or days which were in the power of those now raising the objection to reduce to a minimum, and as I have two homes, one on Molokai and another in Honolulu, and having actually paid steamer fares, etc., in order to keep to the days set by counsel in this case, to say nothing of the hazard of the voyage between Oahu and Molokai, I should consider, in justice to myself and family, that I am out and injured for the disallowance of my pay for the six hearings.

I had anticipated a protest about this matter, accordingly I asked the Chief Justice to have me called up in case of such a protest being made (as was done in a former case) so as fairly to give me a chance to make a statement before having the matter decided ex parte as far as I was concerned.

The Chief Justice promised he would have me called up, but I suppose it had slipped his mind, and I know he must be a very busy man, having to consider many things.

May I now request you to ask the Supreme Court for a rehearing on this case and that I be allowed to make a statement in the presence of the court and counsel.

Yours respectfully,
(Sgd.) EMMA M. NAKUINA.

canopy of twining dragons sitting the whiskered god before whom all the members make obeisance. Before the shrine is the altar, covered with pink sticks, sacred candles, oblations of the finest sweetmeats and numerous petitions and prayers, jammed on the smouldering punks. The front of the altar is most gorgeously carved and behind a lattice-work screen, which forms the frame, are a half hundred gilded figures of animals that would set the President shouting "faster" through clenched teeth. All the carving, the silk draperies with silk designs cunningly attached, barrel-shaped drums with lacquered figures displayed upon them and brzen bells with dragons beaten out in relief, were imported from China and are examples of the best work of the artists of the Orient.

The Kot On Fui Ken, of which a literal translation is "The Peace of the Country Society," is the strongest Chinese organization in the islands and one of the strongest of all the Chinese secret societies, having branches all over the world where there are Chinese colonies. It is fraternal in its character, and has no connection whatever with the various tong societies. In Hawaii nearly ninety per cent. of the Chinamen are members, the Honolulu order being the head for the islands, with branches elsewhere. The officers of the grand lodge, which occupies the new building, are: Ching Chew Yee, president; Chuck Sing, vice president; C. K. H. Ching, English secretary; Lu Shing, assistant; Goo Fook Sam, Chinese secretary; Wong Wah Hong, assistant; Leau Yuck Chung, director, and Ten Wah and Lu Sum Lai, priests.

In Honolulu the order is about forty years old, but the original society in China dates back into the sixteenth century.

Local people in society are looking forward eagerly to the coming of the Maui polo team to this city for the matches with Oahu. The entertainment of the guests has not been decided on as yet, but between the polo crowd and the players in the tennis and golf matches there will be occasion for many dinners, dances and receptions in the next three weeks. The members of the Maui team are all well-known in Honolulu and there will be a delegation of poloists from Kaula here at the same time who will help to keep the local people busy with the true spirit of Honolulu hospitality. Among those who will come here from Maui for the polo games are: Mrs. Edmund Baker, Miss Charlotte Baldwin, S. A. Baldwin, H. W. Rice, C. C. Krumbhaar and Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Baldwin. They have already engaged apartments at the Moana Hotel which will be the Maui headquarters during polo week.

Lieut. Cushman, who has been connected with the local naval station for some time past, has been ordered to the protected cruiser Chicago. He will leave for the mainland on the next Alameda. Mrs. Cushman will remain in Honolulu till September, when she expects to sail on a transport leaving about the middle of the month.

Miss Edith M. Russell, who has been the guest of Katherine Goodale, sailed on the Alameda for her home on the mainland.

The ladies at Fort Shafter will be at home on Friday afternoon. It has been arranged that a conveyance will meet the cars at the end of the line on that afternoon between four and six o'clock.

Invitations have been received in town from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCortriston, of Kamalo, Molokai, to the wedding of their daughter, Margaret Theresa, to William Kilderkin Kerr, of Honolulu, which is to take place on August seventh.

Among the coming events for this week are a picnic at the Peninsula, to be given by Miss Rosie Herbert, and a hop at the Manoa residence of the McCannahans, at which Miss Justine McCannahan will be the hostess.

Princess Kawanakoa entertained at a dinner and dance in honor of the birthday of her youngest child on Thursday evening. Among those who gathered to wish long life and happiness to the baby were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dougherty, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High, Miss Rose Davison, Miss Kate McIntyre, Mrs. Emmet May, Frank Thompson and Mr. Wickett.

Chronicle.—Mrs. Harry Macfarlane has decided to postpone her departure to Honolulu until the fall, which is welcome news to her friends. She is now spending some time in San Rafael again, but takes frequent trips to town.

A very jolly week's end house party was given by Miss Beatrice and Alfred Castle at the W. R. Castle place on the Tantalus road, "Kallua." They entertained the Misses Dagmar Sorenson, Elsa and Linda Schaefer, Gertrude Brown, Edith Russell and Catharine Goodale, and Messrs. George Fuller, Richard Cooke, Frederick and Sherwood Lowrey, Harold Castle and Geo. Canavarro. President and Mrs. Griffiths chaperoned the party. The enjoyment of all was enhanced by their knowledge of the recent engagement of Miss Sorenson and Richard Cooke, who received the hearty and sincerest congratulations. Monday evening and "back home" came all too soon.

Miss Restarick has cards out for a tea to be given on Monday night in honor of her friend Miss Burnham.

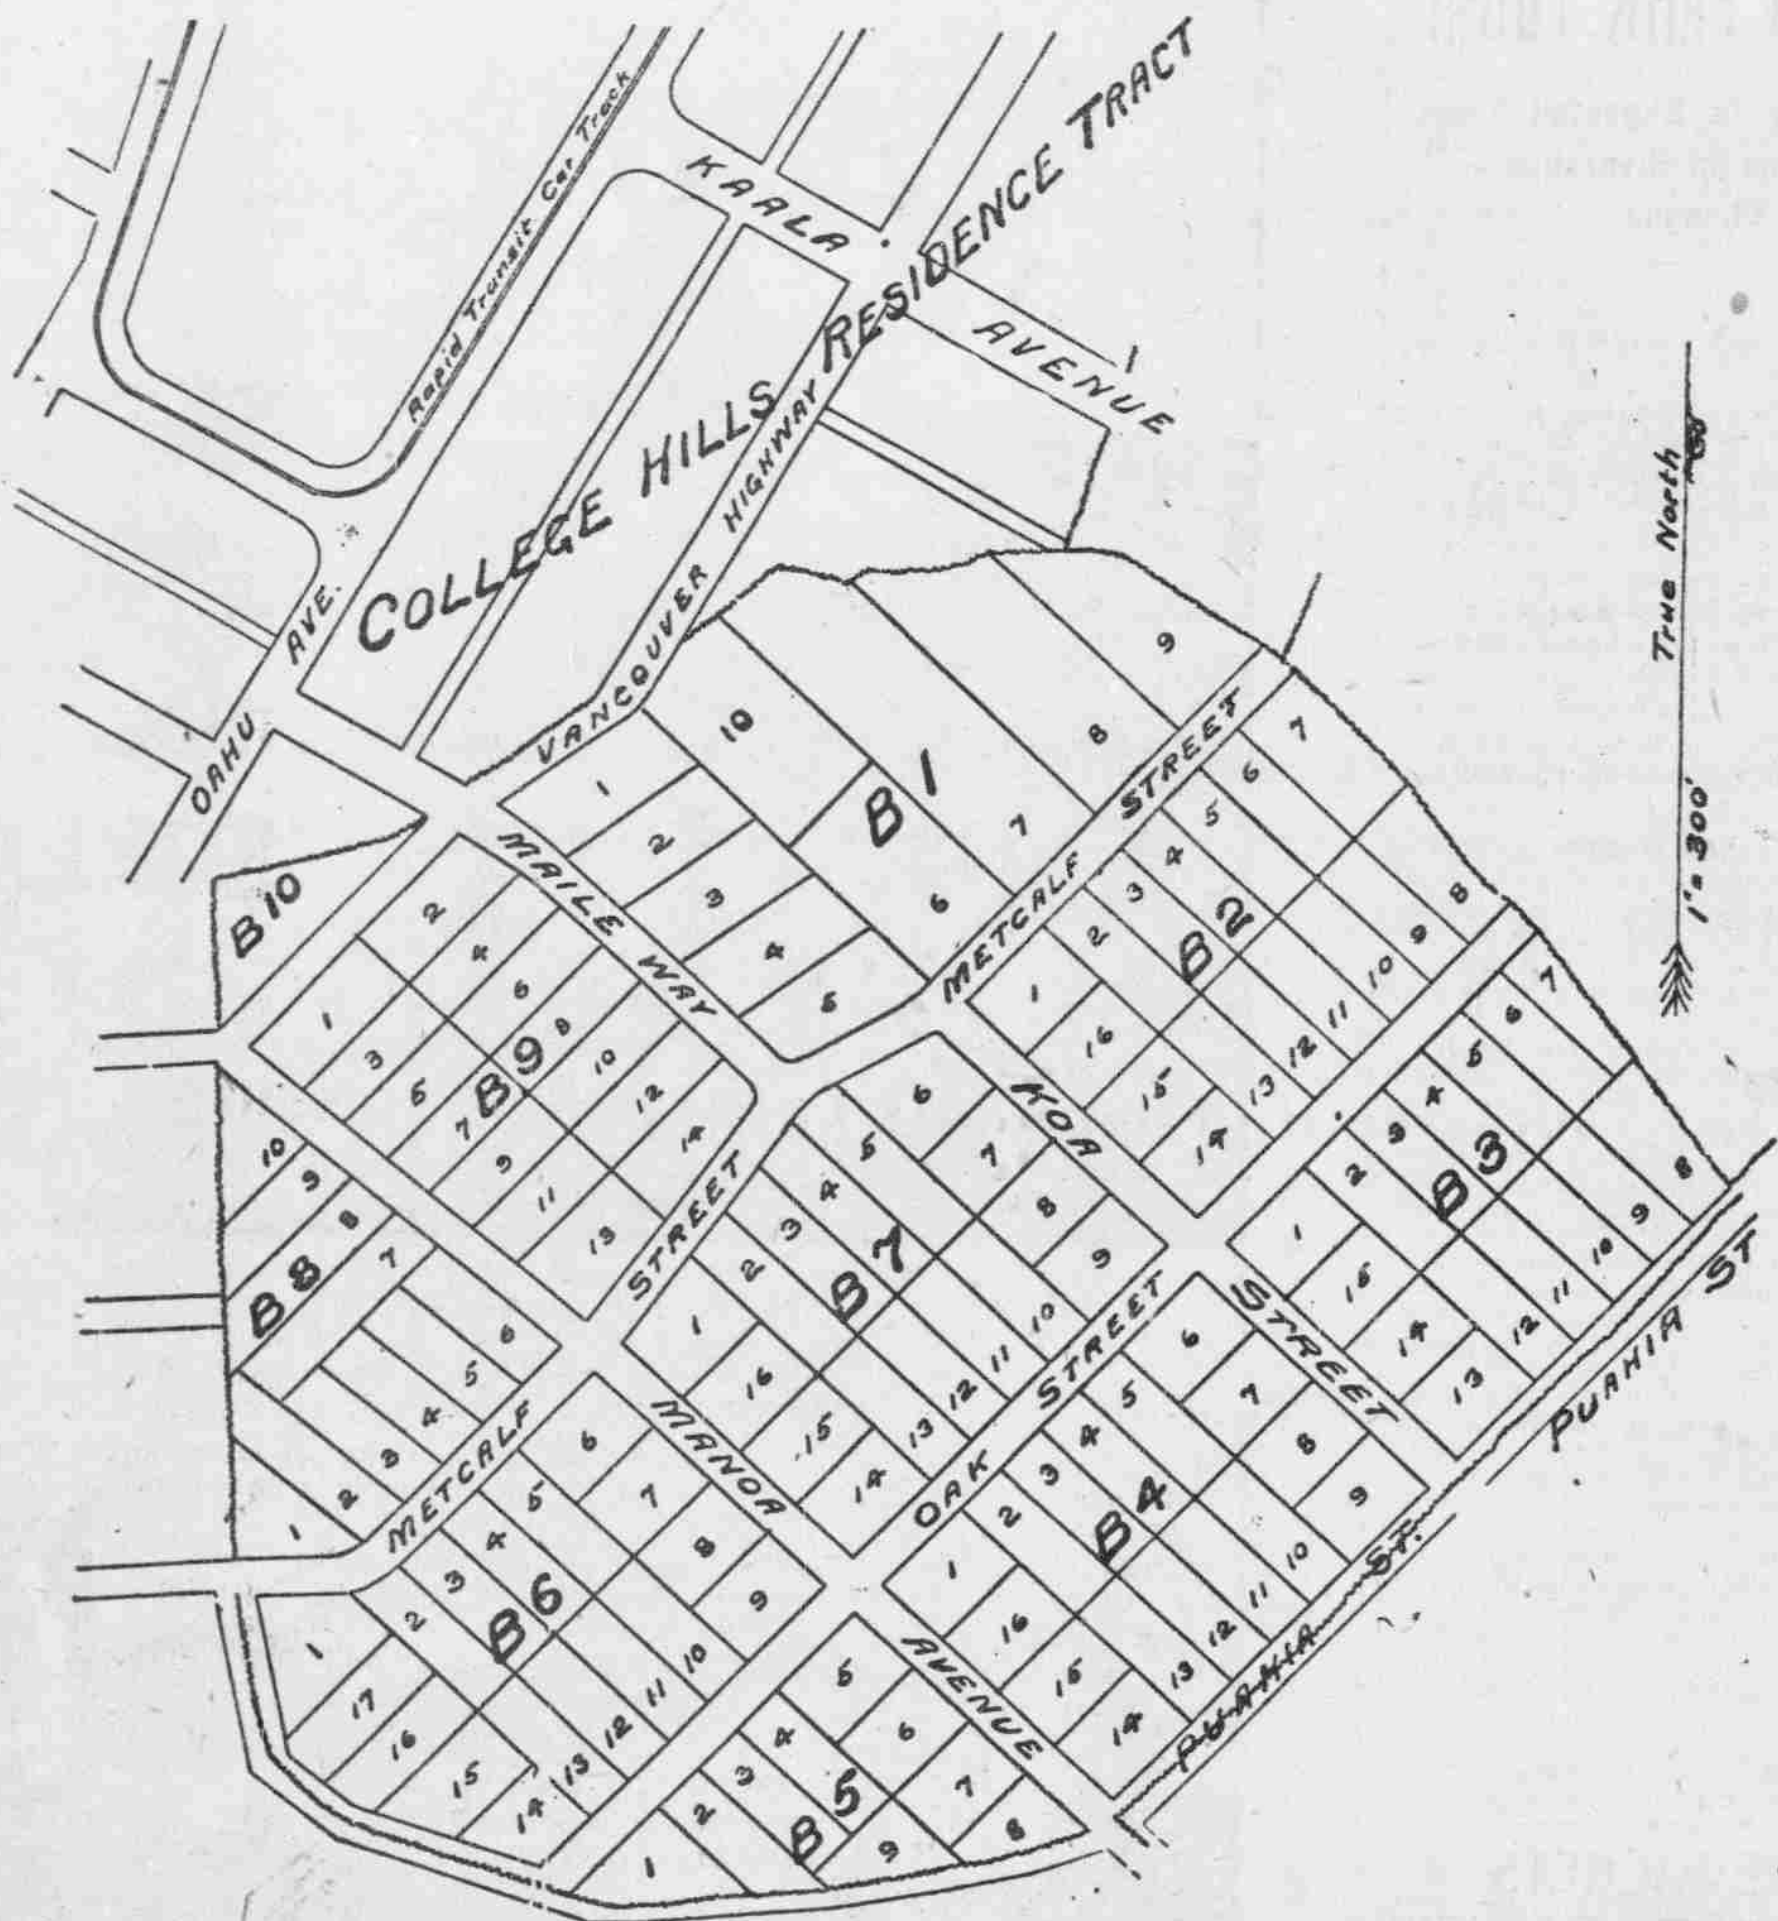

Society is at a loss to know in what direction to plan for the coming of the Longworths. It is apprehended that the visitors will not desire to be entertained to any great extent, having practically squelched any attempts at elaborate functions in their honor at San Francisco, and refusing to accept a shower of invitations sent them from Spokane and the other Northwestern cities. Acting Governor Atkinson is looking after the arrangements for housing the visitors while here.

A very pretty home wedding was that of Miss Lily Murray, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Murray, to William Lougher, which took place at the residence of the bride's mother on Thursday evening, in the presence of a number of the intimate friends and relatives of the young people. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Libert, assisted by Father Valentin, the bride standing beneath a bower of white lilies and malle. The bride, a particularly pretty girl, wore a wedding gown of white silk over crepe de chine, with a full train. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Elsa Murray, as bridesmaid, who wore a becoming gown of blue liberty silk. Edward Kinney, of Punene, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which a large number of well-known people gathered to extend their congratulations. The popularity of the bride was evidenced in the very large number of handsome gifts received, including much cut glass and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lougher are spending the honeymoon on Tantalus and will sail for their home on Maui on Tuesday. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies in Honolulu, having

There have been a number of house parties in the various cottages and villas on Tantalus during the week. A jolly party spent two days as the guests of Mrs. Paul Isenberg, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bishop entertained in honor of Miss Linda Schaefer, and Alfred Castle had a large party from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. Clifford Kimball leaves shortly for the mainland, where she will visit in Boston with her husband's relatives. At present Mr. and Mrs. Kimball are the guests of Mrs. King, Mrs. Kimball's mother.

A dinner in honor of Governor Carter has been planned by the heads of the various government departments as a welcome home to the chief executive. The details of the affair are in the hands of Acting Governor Atkinson, which means that everything will be as it should be.

The marriage of Associate Justice Ballou to Mrs. Lucia Burdett, daughter of the general manager of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway, took place yesterday in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Ballou are expected to return shortly to Honolulu.

The organization of the branch has not as yet been completed, it having been thought best not to elect the officers until the membership had been increased. Each of the ladies is at present a membership committee of one and all are at work enlisting others in the good cause. Mrs. W. W. Hall is the secretary.

Superintendent J. D. Gaines of the cable company celebrated his half century birthday at a stag dinner given to a number of his friends. The affair took place at his residence at College Hills and was a most successful celebration.

Miss Lady Macfarlane and Henry Macfarlane are at present on Kaula, taking part in a house party at the Fairchilds'.

Beautiful Sans Souci was the scene of a most enjoyable bathing party on Wednesday evening, the hostess at which was Miss Harriet Hatch and the guests a large number of her young friends. The supper was served in the new bungalow, the tables being bedecked with white daisies. The Kaula orchestra furnished the music for the dance which followed, which, with the moonlight strolls, ended a most enjoyable affair.

Misses Elsa and Linda Schaefer were charming hostesses of a pretty luncheon on Wednesday. Their guests were the Misses Beatrice Castle, Helene Irwin, Margaret Hyde-Smith, Edna Gunn, Harriet Hatch, Nora Sturgeon, Irene Fisher, Dagmar Sorenson, Katherine Goodale and Ella Wright. The table was artistically decorated with pink carnations and greens, the effect being extremely pretty.

The Waikiki bungalow of Judge and Mrs. Wilder was en fete on Monday evening in honor of Miss Edna Gunn, the roomy lanais and the beautiful grounds being lighted with numerous Chinese lanterns, in the light of which a large number of the young members of society danced to the music of Kaula's quintet club.
